

Where to go for help

Victim Service Programs

Shelter/safe house, counseling, crisis hotline, safety plans, medical advocacy, legal advocacy, assistance with filing for violent crimes compensation and public assistance, and personal support.

Child Advocacy Centers

Child-friendly environment that allows law enforcement, child protection workers, prosecutors, medical providers, victim/family advocacy, tribal representatives, and mental health providers to work together when there are allegations of child abuse. Referrals are required.

Batterers' Intervention Programs

Group counseling, education, and individual meetings to help end domestic violence.
